

OCT 1 - 1953

25X1A5a1

This is to acknowledge your letter of October 10 with the enclosed draft of a paper you plan to present.

25X1A5a1

I have read your paper with a good deal of interest and consider it an excellent and hard-hitting presentation. There is no reason why any of the facts or figures that you used should not be disclosed, since they were obtained from unclassified sources.

I have taken the liberty of having one of our groups concerned with coal read your paper as an editorial service to you. There is attached a page of suggestions they have made, which you are at liberty to use as you so desire.

Sincerely yours,

Robert Aamory, Jr.
Deputy Director/Intelligence

Suggested Changes1. Page 2, paragraph 2.

Eliminate the word "nearby" in the third line, because the Kuznetsk field is approximately 2,000 miles east of the Donbas.

Eliminate the word "Siberian" in the fifth line, because Kazakhstan is not generally considered as a part of Siberia.

2. Page 2, paragraph 3.

Eliminate the phrase "It seems likely that", because the Soviets have referred to stripping operations.

3. Page 3, Coal Production Table No. 1.

It is suggested that you consider the following figures, most of which you will note have been published by the U.S. Bureau of Mines.

Coal Production Table No. 1

(000,000 Net U.S. Tons)

	1928	1938	1940	1947	1948	1949	1950	1951	1952	1955 Plan
Communist Countries
Czechoslovakia		18 a/		18 b/	20	19	20	20	22
Eastern Germany		4		3	3	3	3	3	4
Hungary b/		1		1	1	2	2	2	2
Poland		76		65	77	82	86	90	93
Russia
Coal-lignite b/	43	146	183	173	226	260	291	310	332	416
Peat		(29)	(34)				(51)			(65)
		245		260	327	366	402	425	453

a. United Nations, Statistical Yearbook, 1949-50.

b. U.S., Bureau of Mines, Minerals Yearbook 1945, 1951 and 1952 (preliminary) except for the 1928 figure from Herbert Harris, Nations Business, September 1953, Vol. 41, No. 9, p. 75 and the 1955 plan figure which was reported as 377.5 million metric tons in the New York Times, 23 August 1952.

4. Page 4, paragraph 1.

The use of Bureau of Mines figures would change the figures given in this paragraph.

5. Page 5, paragraph 2.

In line 9, the word "Konsomol" should read Komsomol.

1. Introduction

During the past few years, the word "terrorism" has become a household name. It is a word that has been used to describe a wide variety of acts, from the bombing of a train to the assassination of a president.

It is important to understand that terrorism is not a new phenomenon. It has existed in one form or another throughout human history.

2. Definition of Terrorism

The definition of terrorism is a subject of much debate. Some people believe that terrorism is any act of violence that is intended to create fear or to achieve a political or religious goal.

3. The Problem of Terrorism

It is important to understand that terrorism is not a new phenomenon. It has existed in one form or another throughout human history.

4. The Problem of Terrorism
